Northeast Florida Medicine is a peer reviewed medical journal that features original clinical articles mainly written by local physicians who are DCMS members. Each issue is focused on a particular topic and one article provides Continuing Medical Education (CME) credit. The journal and free CME credit are benefits of DCMS membership.

The journal reaches a highly focused audience of physicians and other professionals. Published quarterly by the DCMS Foundation on behalf of the Medical Societies of Duval, Clay, Nassau, Putnam, and St. John's Counties, with print distribution to over 2,100 Northeast Florida physicians (MDs and DOs) and affiliated healthcare professionals; journal content is also posted on our companion website, www.dcmsonline.org, receiving over 100,000 hits monthly.

Display and classified advertising are available. For advertising rates and deadlines, contact Barbara Braddock, (904) 355-6561 x107/membership@dcmsonline.org or Leora Legacy, (904) 355-6561 x103/llegacy@dcmsonline.org.
